

Knowledge and the Future School: Curriculum and social justice By Michael Young Knowledge and the Future schooljaar 2020 An essential read for any school leader Michael Young Written at a time of uncertainty about the implications of the English government's curriculum policies Knowledge and the Future School engages with the debate between the government and large sections of the educational community. Knowledge and the Future schooljournaal It provides a forward-looking framework for head teachers their staff and those training teachers to use when developing the curriculum of individual schools in the context of a national curriculum. Knowledge and the Future schooljaar 2020 While explaining recent ideas in the sociology of educational knowledge the authors draw on Michael Young's earlier research with Johan Muller to distinguish three models of the curriculum in terms of their assumptions about knowledge referred to in this book as Future 1 Future 2 and Future 3. Knowledge and the Future School booklet They link Future 3 to the idea of 'powerful knowledge' for all pupils as a curriculum principle for any school arguing that the question of knowledge is intimately linked to the issue of social justice and that access to 'powerful knowledge' is a necessary component of the education of all pupils,

Knowledge and the future school book pdf

I wish somebody has recommended this to me when it was first published, EPub Knowledge and the Future school of medicine As a lefty trad I felt this book says everything I have been trying to say - just in a more coherent fashion than I every could. The future of education and skills education 2030 Knowledge and the Future School offers a new way of thinking about the problems that head teachers their staff and curriculum designers face: Knowledge and the Future schooljudo In charting a course for schools that goes beyond current debates it also provides a perspective that policy makers should not avoid: Knowledge and the Future schooljaar 2020 Knowledge and the Future School: Curriculum and social justice Michael Dunlop Young Baron Young of Dartington British sociologist social activist and politician.

